Defendants.

Plaintiffs Arizona Democratic Party and Lisa Sanor, for their Verified Special Action Complaint against Defendants, allege as follows:

OVERVIEW

- 1. This Complaint involves a petition filed by an organization known as "No Labels" with the Arizona Secretary of State on February 10, 2023, to be recognized as a political party in Arizona: the "No Labels Party." No Labels is not in fact organized as a political party, but instead as a nonprofit corporation organized under § 501 (c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code. It does not comply with any of the requirements political parties must satisfy under applicable law to participate in federal elections, as No Labels seeks to do in attempting to secure ballot access for the 2024 primary and general elections in Arizona.
- 2. The petition by which No Labels seeks ballot access as a political party failed to comply with the requirements of Arizona law for certifying new political parties, and the Secretary of State erroneously certified the No Labels Party as a political party on March 7, 2023. This Complaint challenges that certification.
- 3. Under federal law, a "political party" is "an association, committee, or organization which nominates a candidate for election to any Federal office." See 52 U.S.C. § 30101(16). As a District of Columbia nonprofit corporation organized under Internal Revenue Code§ 501(c)(4), No Labels must be operated "exclusively for the promotion of social welfare" and so can engage in only insubstantial campaign intervention. 26 U.S.C. § 501(c)(4); see also 26 C.F.R. § 1.501(c)(4)-l(a)(ii).

- 4. Based on information and belief, despite being organized as a 501(c)(4) corporation whose primary purpose cannot be political campaign intervention, No Labels has raised approximately $50 million to secure ballot access as a political party in at least 10 states, with a publicly stated goal ofraising at least $76 million. Its effort to have the No Labels Party certified in Arizona is part of that initiative.
- 5. Moreover, as a 50l(c)(4) corporation that is not registered as a political party committee or other type of political organization, No Labels is generally not required to identify its donors and funders. See, e.g., Citizens for Resp. & Ethics in Wash. v. Fed. Election Comm 'n, 316 F. Supp. 3d 349, 380-81 (D.D.C. 2018). To date, No Labels has not publicly disclosed its donors, leaving the sources of much of its funding largely unknown. Nor has No Labels publicly identified the donors behind the initiative to have it certified as a political party in Arizona, despite federal laws requiring political party committees spending more than $5,000 to influence a federal election to identify their donors in filings with the Federal Election Commission. See 52 U.S.C. §§ 30101(4)(A), 30104(b)(3).
- 6. In Arizona, a new political party may become eligible for recognition by timely filing with the Secretary of State a petition signed by the requisite number of qualified electors. A.R.S. § 16-801(A). The "petition shall," among other things, "[b]e verified by the affidavit often qualified electors of the state, asking that the signers thereof be recognized as a new political party." A.R.S. § 16-801(A)(1).
- 7. The Secretary of State must determine the total number of valid signatures on the petition after his initial culling of signatures and review and certification of a twenty-percent signature sample by the county recorders of counties where petition signers purport to be qualified electors. A party with the requisite number of valid signatures qualifies for recognition.
- 8. While a petition for political party recognition must be "verified by the affidavit often qualified electors of the state," A.R.S. § 16-801(A)(I), the petition filed by

No Labels was "verified" by elector affidavits that long predated the completion of the petition. Indeed, No Labels continued to collect petition signatures for months after its electors signed affidavits pwporting to verify the petition.

9. Because these elector affiants could not verify an incomplete petition or speak for electors who had not yet signed it, the affidavits purporting to verify the petition were false, rendering the entire petition invalid. No Labels is not entitled to political party recognition in Arizona.

PARTIES, JURISDICTION, AND VENUE

- 10. Plaintiff Arizona Democratic Party ("ADP") is a political party entitled to continued representation on the ballot under A.R.S. § 16-804. It is a "State committee" under federal campaign finance law. See 52 U.S.C. § 30101(15). Its purpose is to elect Democratic Party candidates to public office in Arizona. To accomplish this purpose, ADP supports Democratic candidates in national, state, and local elections through fundraising and organizing efforts and protecting the rights of Arizona voters. ADP has members and constituents throughout Arizona, including many voters who regularly support and vote for candidates affiliated with the Democratic Party. ADP brings this claim on its own behalf and on behalf of its members and constituents.
- 11. To protect the integrity of the ballot, Arizona law imposes appropriately strict burdens for the recognition of a new party. The unlawful recognition of No Labels as a political party, without it having met these requirements, will require ADP to expend and divert additional funds and staff time on voter education to accomplish its mission in Arizona. For example, ADP anticipates needing to focus additional educational resources to elect Democratic Party candidates. Further ADP and its constituents are directly harmed by the unlawful recognition of No Labels because it will make it more difficult to elect Democratic Party candidates.
- 12. Plaintiff Lisa Sanor is a qualified elector and a registered Democrat. As such, she will further be harmed by the unlawful recognition of No Labels as a party because it will make it more difficult to elect Democratic Party candidates whom she desires to be elected.

- 13. Defendant No Labels is a 501 (c)(4) nonprofit corporation in the District of Columbia and is, upon information and belief, the proponent of the petition for new party recognition for the No Labels Party in Arizona.
- 14. Defendant Adrian Fontes is the Secretary of State of Arizona and is named in his official capacity only. Secretary Fontes is the officer with whom petitions for new political party recognition are filed and is responsible for reviewing and processing said petitions, determining the total number of valid signatures on the petition, and determining whether the party is eligible for recognition.
- 15. Defendants the Board of Supervisors in each of Apache, Cochise, Coconino, Gila, Graham, Greenlee, La Paz, Maricopa, Mohave, Navajo, Pima, Pinal, Santa Cruz, Yavapai, and Yuma counties (collectively, the "County Boards of Supervisors") are named in their official capacities only. The County Boards of Supervisors are the governing bodies charged by law with conducting elections within their jurisdictional boundaries, including preparing primary election ballots for recognized political parties and general election ballots that include columns for recognized political parties. A.R.S. §§ 11-251(3), 16-405, 16-461, 16-502(C), 16-503(A).
- 16. This court has jurisdiction under Article VI, §§ 14, 18 of the Arizona Constitution; A.R.S. §§ 12-123, 12-1801, 12-1831, and 12-2021; and Rules 1 and 4(a) of the Arizona Rules of Procedure for Special Actions.
- 17. Venue in Maricopa County is proper under A.RS.§ 12-401(16) and Rule 4(b) of the Arizona Rules of Procedure for Special Actions because at least one of the public-officer defendants holds office and conducts official business in Maricopa County.

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

I. The Petition and the Secretary of State's Review and Certification.

- 18. On February 10, 2023, No Labels filed with the Secretary of State a petition for political party recognition that consisted of 7,079 petition sheets bearing a total of 56,971 signatures eligible for review.
- 19. The petition bore signatures dated as early as March 2, 2022, and as late as January 31, 2023.
- 20. The Secretary of State removed 585 individual petition signatures based on various defects under A.R.S. § 16-803(B)(l)--(2).
- 21. The Secretary of State selected a 20% random sample of the 56,387 remaining eligible signatures, identifying 11,278 petition signatures across 5,626 petition sheets for verification by county recorders under A.R.S.§ 16-803(C)-(D).
- 22. The county recorders validated 8,647 signatures and disqualified 2,631 signatures, resulting in an invalidity rate of 23.33%.
- 23. After deducting county-invalidated signatures and applying the invalidity rate to the remaining signatures, the Secretary of State determined that the total number of valid signatures was 41,663, which exceeded the 34,127 minimum signatures required.
- 24. On March 7, 2023, the Secretary of State issued a certification of the "Final Results of the No Labels Party of Arizona Filing," declaring that "[t]he No Labels Party exceeds the minimum signature requirement and, therefore, qualifies as a new party for federal, statewide, and legislative races in the 2024 Primary and General Elections under Arizona law."

II. The Facially Defective and False Elector Affidavits.

25. The No Labels petition was accompanied by twelve "Affidavit of Electors" sheets, which collectively bore the signatures of 16 electors averring: "We, the ten undersigned qualified electors of the state of Arizona, request that the signers of the attached petitions be recognized as a new political party, to be called No Labels Party."

- 29. Indeed, each elector who signed an "Affidavit of Electors" sheet on a given day had an entirely different set of petition signatures than electors who signed affidavits on a different day, as No Labels continued to collect signatures after the execution of each affidavit sheet.
- 30. As a result, no ten electors verified by affidavit the petition that was filed with the Secretary of State on February 10, 2023. That petition is unverified. See A.R.S. § 16-801(A)(1) (requiring that the petition for new party recognition "[b]e verified by the affidavit of ten qualified electors").
- 31. In addition to failing to verify the petition, the affidavit sheets asked for the wrong thing and misrepresented even that. The verification affidavit must ask "that the signers thereofbe recognized as a new political party." A.R.S. § 16-801(A)(I) (emphasis added). But the No Labels affidavit sheets asked instead "that the signers of the attached petitions be recognized as a new political party" (emphasis added). Of course, the later-signed petition sheets could not possibly have been "attached" to any affidavit when it was executed. And the signers of the petition sheets had asked only that a new party be recognized, not that they constitute or join the party. By the affidavits' terms, the affidavit signers both inaccurately stated what was before them and misrepresented what the petition signers actually sought.
- 32. It is well-settled Arizona law that false affidavits void the signature sheets they purport to verify, rendering the signatures on those sheets invalid. See Brousseau v. Fitzgerald, 138 Ariz. 453, 456 (1984) ("[P]etitions containing false certifications by circulators are void, and the signatures on such petitions may not be considered in determining the sufficiency of the number of signatures to qualify for placement on the ballot."); Moreno v. Jones, 213 Ariz. 94, 103 ,i 47 (2006) ("[P]etitions that are improperly certified are void."); Parker v. City of Tucson, 233 Ariz. 422, 438 ,i 48 (App. 2013) ("The false affidavits rendered the signature sheets void."). This is so even under a substantial compliance standard. See Moreno, 213 Ariz. at 103 ,i 47 ("Falsely certifying a petition is a 'serious matter involving more than a technicality." (quoting Brousseau, 138 Ariz. at 455)).

33. The upshot is that "signatures on defective petitions are themselves invalid," Kennedy v. Lodge, 230 Ariz. 548, 550 il. 9 (2012). Courts regularly toss entire petition measures for failure to comply with applicable legal requirements. See Molera v. Reagan, 245 Ariz. 291, 294 ii 11 (2018) (observing that "this Court in many cases has invalidated [petition measures] that did not comply with applicable requirements," and collecting cases where the court had done so).

34. Arizona law, including A.R.S. §§ 16-801, 803, establishes a petition verification process for new political parties for the purpose of safeguarding the integrity of the electoral system. No Labels' pursuit of "political party" status has involved presenting prospective signers with petitions indicating that it is organized as a political party, "which shall be known as the No Labels Party," and seeking to be "represented by an official party ballot" in the State of Arizona. The electors verifying the petition as required by Arizona law aver and request that the "signers of the attached petitions be recognized as a new political party." Yet No Labels is neither organized nor functions as a political party, and it does not comply with the legal requirements that political parties seeking access to the ballot to participate in federal elections must satisfy.

35. It is in this context that No Labels also submitted false verifications of its petitions, as set out in the Complaint, rendering them invalid. No Labels cannot therefore qualify as a new party for federal, statewide, and legislative races in the 2024 Primary and General Elections under Arizona law.

COUNTI

(Special Action Relief in the Nature of Mandamus Against the Secretary of State)

- 36. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate the preceding paragraphs.
- 37. Courts may issue a writ of mandamus to any "person [or] corporation ... on the verified complaint of the party beneficially interested, to compel, when there is not a plain, adequate and speedy remedy at law, performance of an act which the law specially imposes as a duty resulting from an office "A.R.S. § 12-2021. Accordingly, under

A.R.S. § 12-2021, members of the public who are "beneficially interested" in an action may sue to compel officials to perform their non-discretionary duties. Ariz. Pub. Integrity All. v. Fontes, 250 Ariz. 58, 62 ,i 11 (2020). "The phrase 'party beneficially interested' is 'applied liberally to promote the ends of justice." Id. (quoting Barry v. Phx. Union High Sch., 67 Ariz. 384, 387 (1948)).

- 38. As an Arizona political party entitled to continued representation on the ballot and as a qualified elector, Plaintiffs have a beneficial interest in compelling elections officials to comply with their non-discretionary duty to comply with Arizona election law. See id. at 62 i, 12.
- 39. Where a mandamus action is "brought to review a determination or order of a body or officer, the judgment may annul or confirm the determination in whole or in part, or modify it, and may direct, order, or prohibit specified action by the defendant." Ariz. R. P. Special Actions 6.
- 40. The Secretary of State determined that No Labels "qualifies as a new party for federal, statewide, and legislative races in the 2024 Primary and General Elections under Arizona law," despite No Labels having submitted a facially deficient petition that was not properly verified as required by A.R.S. § 16-801(A)(l). No Labels' failure to verify its petition as required by A.R.S. § 16-801(A)(l) voided every signature on the petition.
- 41. Based on the facially deficient petition filed by No Labels, its petition has no valid signatures, and the Secretary of State had a nondiscretionary legal duty to determine as much and certify that No Labels would not be recognized as a party. See A.R.S. § 16-803(H)-(I); Ariz. R. P. Special Actions 3(a).
- 42. By certifying that No Labels would be recognized notwithstanding its facially deficient petition, the Secretary of State also exceeded his legal authority and abused his discretion. Ariz. R. P. Special Actions 3(b)-(c).

COUNTIL

(Injunctive and Declaratory Relief for Violation of A.R.S. § 16-801 and -803 Against All Defendants)

- 43. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate the preceding paragraphs.
- 44. Arizona courts have authority to "declare rights, status, and other legal relations whether or not further relief is or could be claimed.... The declaration may be either affirmative or negative in form and effect; and such declarations shall have the force and effect of a final judgment or decree." A.R.S. § 12-1831. "The declaratory judgment act is remedial and is to be liberally construed." Citizens' Comm. for Recall of Jack Williams v. Morton, 109 Ariz. 188, 192 (1973).
- 45. By failing to verify the petition for new party recognition filed with the Secretary of State and submitting false elector affidavits that also failed to request that its signers "be recognized as a new political party," A.R.S. § 16-801(A)(I), No Labels has failed to meet the threshold requirements of A.R.S. § 16-801(A)(I). No Labels is not entitled to party recognition.
- 46. As an Arizona political party entitled to continued representation on the ballot and as a qualified elector, Plaintiffs have an actual and real interest in ensuring that only those political parties that have satisfied the legal requirements for recognition receive an official primary ballot and appear alongside (and thereby compete for votes with) ADP on the general election ballot.
- 47. There is an actual and justiciable controversy between Plaintiffs, No Labels, the Secretary of State, and the County Boards of Supervisors regarding No Labels' eligibility for political party recognition, and declaratory judgment and injunctive relief from the Court would resolve the controversy.
- 48. The purpose of the new party statutes, including A.R.S. §§ 16-801, 803, is to protect the integrity of the electoral system and the process of giving effect to the will of voters; the statutes are intended to benefit all Arizona voters, as well as existing recognized political parties and their candidates.

- 49. Arizona courts have authority to grant injunctions. A.R.S. § 12-1801. Further, "all public officials ... may be 'enjoined from acts' that are beyond [their] power." Ariz. Pub. Integrity All., 250 Ariz. at 62 114 (quoting Berry v. Foster, 180 Ariz. 233, 235-36 (App. 1994)).
- 50. As the officials responsible for preparing official ballots, the County Boards of Supervisors may afford a party ballot in a primary election, or a column on the official ballot in the general election, only to those political parties that have satisfied the requirements for new party recognition under A.R.S. §§ 16-801, -803.
- 51. Because No Labels has failed to meet the requirements for new party recognition under A.R.S. §§ 16-801, -803, the County Boards of Supervisors lack the power to prepare for No Labels an official party ballot at the next regular primary election or to accord No Labels a column on the official ballot at the next general election and should be so enjoined.
- 52. As the official responsible for reviewing new party petitions and determining their eligibility, the Secretary of State must certify only those new political parties that have satisfied the requirements for new party recognition under A.R.S. §§ 16-801, -803.
- 53. Because No Labels has failed to meet the requirements for new party recognition under A.R.S. §§ 16-801, -803, the Secretary of State lacked power to certify that No Labels would be recognized as a party, and the Secretary of State should be required to rescind his certification of the "Final Results of the No Labels Party of Arizona Filing."

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs respectfully request that this Court provide the following relief:

A. A writ of mandamus annulling the Secretary of State's recognition that No Labels "qualifies as a new party for federal, statewide, and legislative races in the 2024 Primary and General Elections under Arizona law," or directing the Secretary of State to rescind the recognition.
